

DYSLEXIA DEMYSTIFIED

SUPPORTING TEACHERS TO ENSURE ALL STUDENTS SUCCEED

KNOWLEDGE

What dyslexia is and isn't, dyslexic strengths & limitations, dyslexia from a neurodiversity perspective and the latest research in the dyslexic space

STRATEGIES & TECHNOLOGIES

Teaching strategies and assistive technologies for engagement. Critical information around accommodations, special consideration and future pathways

UNIQUE PERSPECTIVE

Our unique lived experiences as dyslexic students speaks to the emotional impact dyslexia can have on young people. Strategies on supporting student wellbeing

Each presentation is adapted to the specific needs of the school. It is great to include question time, particularly with staff. Most presentations run for 45-60 mins and the cost of each presentation is $350 per group.

0405 333 036

jemima@hutton.education

www.dyslexiademystified.org

TESTEMONIALS AND AWARDS

Jemima is an engaging, articulate and knowledgeable speaker. Her presentation was perfectly pitched to our needs. She gave us insight into her own journey and challenges, and also shared with us useful strategies for supporting our own students. It was powerful to hear these messages from a student perspective and there were valuable 'take aways' for every staff member, including those of us with years of experience under our belts!

Daniela Nardelli, Director of Curriculum at Box Hill Senior Secondary College

Jemima Hutton presented to the staff at The Knox School, weaving her personal experiences and observations with salient research to challenge teachers to consider what best practice might actually look like. Jemima's presentation was a fresh take on a subject of which teachers are increasingly needing to be mindful. The session was infused with anecdotes and sage counsel.

Suzanne Van Strien, Head of Senior School at The Knox School

Jemima has presented keynotes to students, teachers and parents at more than 60 different schools around Victoria and Queensland and made her international debut in Japan at the Asia Pacific Dyslexia Festival in 2018. Jemima has presented on behalf of SPELD at a variety of staff and parent workshops and was the winner of the 2018 Foundation for Young Australians Jumpstart Unleashed Awards.

0405 333 036

jemima@hutton.education

www.dyslexiademystified.org